

Psychological Services

Serving a diverse population in the Los Angeles community and beyond, Healing Crossroads boasts an impeccable reputation and has become a prominent source for attorneys everywhere. Not only does Healing Crossroads cater to the needs of children, adults, seniors, couples and families in a private practice setting, they closely work with attorneys in the judicial system. Healing Crossroads' areas of emphasis are in forensic evaluations and assessments, comprehensive testing, extensive psychological reports and expert testimony. Their expert evaluator's possess solid clinical skills and are highly trained in the study of behavior and its assessment, diagnosis, and treatment.

Their staff is highly trained and expected to conduct comprehensive, scientific, and impartial assessments. Such assessments involve evaluation, treatment, psychological testing, research and review of records. They utilize testing that includes scales that assess numerous signs of psychological impairment and many are sensitive to signs of malingering or inconclusive finding or response biases. They will identify impairments that limit the individual's ability to function or are exacerbating a pre-existing condition.
